

Charleston County News Release

Release Number: 2849
 Date: January 14, 2008

Some Polling Places Combined for Presidential Primaries, Voters Should Check Their Polling Place before Election Day

Voters in some precincts in Charleston County will not vote at their normal polling places during the Republican Presidential Preference Primary on Saturday, Jan. 19, and during the Democratic Presidential Preference Primary on Saturday, Jan. 26.

Voters should check their precinct to be sure they know where to vote in the presidential primaries. This can be done by visiting <http://vote.charlestoncounty.org> or www.SCVotes.org and using the "Find Your Precinct" feature on the front page. Voters can also use the "Check Your Voter Registration" feature found in the menu under "Voters." Voters without Internet access may contact the Charleston County Voter Registration Office at (843) 744-8683 or by e-mail BEVR@charlestoncounty.org.

During the primaries, signs will be posted at old polling places directing voters who have not heard of changes to their new polling place.

The following polling locations will be used during the elections:
