

Charleston County News Release

Release Number: 3523
Date: November 6, 2012

New Online Features Help Voters Find Polling Place

Go to <http://polling.charlestoncounty.org>

Charleston County's Technology Services Department is pleased to release a new website that allows citizens to locate their polling place and obtain information about current elected officials.

The voter election polling places website, <http://polling.charlestoncounty.org>, allows an individual to enter an address and find their polling place location, directions to the polling location, voter registration contact information, and see current elected officials.

To access the search feature, click on the magnifying glass icon in the top right corner of the webpage, and type in your address. The site will then show a map of the polling location for the address you typed in, and will provide other information (see example from a James Island address):

Name:	James Island Charter High
Address:	1000 Fort Johnson Road,Charleston,SC
Hours:	7am - 7pm
ADA Accessible:	Yes
Registration Deadline:	Oct 06, 2012
Election Date:	Nov 06, 2012
Ballot:	No attachments available
Contact:	Mary D. Adams
Phone:	843-744-VOTE
Email:	bevr@charlestoncounty.org

The Election Polling Places application is accessible by using a desktop PC, mobile phone or tablet device.

Visit <http://vote.charlestoncounty.org>, Precinct and Polling Information, and view Interactive Map for information on polling locations.
